Ethics in Program Evaluation

Through these and other initiatives, The Grooming Institute of Canada works to foster learning by enhancing services in an effort to assist individuals, agencies, students and communities, striving to, open minds, promote active participation, and contribute to social and animal well-being. The Grooming Institute is a Leadership and Business Training company. It's a company designed to accelerate individuals and businesses toward the accomplishments they desire to achieve in life and in business. Different from many other companies in the training industry the Grooming Institute of Canada works beneath the surface of who we are, addressing the foundation on which people build their lives and their businesses.

MENTORING

Make mentoring a strategic business imperative.

Studies show that there is a positive correlation between a positive mentoring experience and an increase in productivity, employee retention and job satisfaction AND larger Company Profits!
